SUPPLIER SPOTLIGHT SAINT-GOBAIN SULLY AIRCRAFT TRANSPARENCIES

Clear vision. Proven protection. Reliable support.

Aerotechnic South Africa is proud to partner with Saint-Gobain Sully, a global leader in high-technology aircraft transparencies. Together, we provide airlines, operators, and MRO facilities with reliable access to premium aircraft windshields and cabin windows, backed by responsive regional support.

By combining Saint-Gobain Sully's manufacturing expertise with Aerotechnic's distribution network and aviation supply chain capabilities, we help keep aircraft flying safely while reducing costly operational downtime.

The Partnership in Action

Saint-Gobain Sully designs and manufactures advanced aircraft windshields and cabin windows for many of the world's leading aircraft platforms, while Aerotechnic serves as a trusted regional stockist and distribution partner.

Together, we provide:

- Regional availability of OEM-quality aircraft windows
- Reliable distribution and supply chain management
- Responsive support for airlines, operators, and repair stations
- Faster access to replacement components when time matters most

This partnership ensures customers receive both premium aerospace products and dependable local support.

OEM Quality. Regional Availability.

Saint-Gobain Sully is recognised throughout the aviation industry for manufacturing advanced transparencies that meet the demanding standards of commercial and business aviation.

Working together, Aerotechnic and Saint-Gobain Sully provide:

- ◆ OEM-quality aircraft windshields and cabin windows
- ◆ Reliable aftermarket replacement solutions
- ◆ Regional stock availability
- ◆ Efficient logistics and delivery support
- ◆ Responsive customer service for urgent requirements

Repair & Replacement

Why This Matters

Maintaining aircraft availability requires more than quality components—it requires immediate access to them.

By partnering with Saint-Gobain Sully, Aerotechnic helps operators reduce maintenance delays, improve fleet availability, and ensure replacement aircraft transparencies are available when they are needed most.

Together, we support safer operations, shorter turnaround times, and greater confidence across the aviation supply chain.
